DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-20 represent Method and apparatus for judging coincidence of addresses, and service provision method and service provision apparatus. Applicant's arguments and amendments filed 11/19/2007 have been carefully considered but are moot in view of the following new grounds of rejection as explained here below, necessitated by Applicant's substantial amendment (i.e., "before the apparatus is connected to a second network; a second acquisition step of acquiring owner information of the apparatus...in accordance with the owner information acquired at the second acquisition step") to the claims which significantly affected the scope thereof.

2.

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of a certified copy of the 10/677,968 application referred to in the oath or declaration or in an application data sheet. If this copy is being filed to obtain the benefits of the foreign filing date under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), applicant should also file a claim for such priority as required by 35 U.S.C. 119(b). If the application being examined is an original application filed under 35 U.S.C. 111(a) (other than a design application) on or after November 29, 2000, the claim for priority must be presented during the pendency of the application, and within the later of four months from the actual filing date of the application or sixteen months from the filing date of the prior foreign application. See 37 CFR 1.55(a)(1)(i). If the application being examined has entered the national stage from an international application filed on or after November 29, 2000, after compliance with 35 U.S.C. 371, the claim for priority must be made during the pendency of the application and within the time limit set forth in the PCT and Regulations of the PCT. See 37 CFR 1.55(a)(1)(ii). Any claim for priority under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d) or (f) or 365(a) or (b) not presented within the time period set forth in 37 CFR 1.55(a)(1) is considered to have been waived. If a claim for foreign priority is presented after the time period set forth in 37 CFR 1.55(a)(1), the claim may be accepted if the claim properly identifies the prior foreign application and is accompanied by a grantable petition to accept an unintentionally delayed claim for priority. See 37 CFR 1.55(c).

Specification

Claims 1-15 are objected to because there is lack of antecedent basis in the specification for "storage medium". Therefore, 35 U.S.C. 101 rejections are maintained. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

4. Claims 11-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. The claims may be directed towards software only, which is functional descriptive material, which per se is not statutory.

As per claims 11-15, claims 11-15 are directed towards a program for judging coincidence of address that may be directed towards software only, which is functional descriptive material, which may be software per se, which is nonstatutory.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-20, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Saito et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,065,064, hereinafter Saito).

As per claim 1, Saito teaches a method of judging coincidence of addresses comprising: a first acquisition step of acquiring a host address of an apparatus connected to a first network before the apparatus is connected to a second network (Abstract, paragraphs [0124], [0138], and [0143], wherein Saito teaches determining a coincidence of address through a judgement step); a second acquisition step of acquiring owner information of the apparatus; a third acquisition step of acquiring a network address of a second network (paragraphs [0124], [0138], and [0143]); a fourth acquisition step of acquiring a host address and a network address of a sending side of a signal from the apparatus connected to the second network (paragraphs [0124], [0138], and [0143])and; and a judgment step of judging whether or not the host address acquired in said first acquisition step and the network address acquired in said second acquisition step coincide with the host address and the network address acquired in said third acquisition step (paragraphs [0124], [0138], and [0143]).

As per claim 2, Saito teaches a method wherein, in said first acquisition step, the host address of the apparatus connected to the first network in an apparatus factory is acquired (paragraph [0106], [0094]).

As per claim 3, Saito teaches a method wherein said judgment step has a provision step of providing a service to the apparatus connected to the second network in the case in which a judgment result shows coincidence of the host addresses and the network addresses (paragraphs [0124], [0138] and [0143] [0003], and [0005]).

As per claims 4 and 5, Saito teaches a method wherein, in said third acquisition step, a part of the network address of the second network is acquired from an Internet service provider for connecting the second network to the Internet and wherein, in said third acquisition step, a part of the network address of the second network is acquired from a DNS server (paragraphs [000]-[0006]).

As per claims 6-10, claims 6-10 lists all the same limitations as claims 1-5 but in apparatus rather than method form. Therefore, the rejection of claims 1-5 applies equally as well in claims 6-10.

As per claims 11-15, claims 11-15 lists all the same limitations as claims 1-5 but in program form rather than method form. Therefore, the rejection of claims 1-5 applies equally as well in claims 11-15.

As per claims 16-20, claims 16-20 lists substantially the same limitations as claims 1-5 and thus are rejected using similar rationale.

CONCLUSION

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
